conditions identical with those on the trunk lines of the country was dismissed by the United States Rallroad Labor Board to-day. The case was heard last fall on the request of fifteen unions that the wage scales and national working agreements on the standard railroads be applied to the short lines.

The decision points out that there are under consideration by the board several hundred grievances which should be eral hundred grievances which should be determined by the boards of adjustment if such boards were in existence. It also pointed out that the diverse kinds of work done by the employees was unclassified and therefore that it actually was impossible to understate the need for standardization or rules upon which to base a wage award.

A general rules and working hearing affecting the trunk lines of the country is before the board. No set of rules, however, has ever been applied uniformly to the short lines. The board declared it was "impracticable to determine what reasonable rules shall be in effect on the short lines until the question of reasonable rules and working conditions on the standard railroads has been disposed of."

Representatives of the carriers and

Representatives of the carriers and

Representatives of the carriers and the employees are still permitted to confer as to wages and working conditions under the board's decision.

Disputes were originally certified to the board on the part of employees belonging to one or more of the fifteen unions on 103 railroads. Ten of these roads, however, were electric lines, and the board ruled these lines out. Twentysix other lines adopted the wage schedules paid by the trunk lines, laid down in what is known as Decision No. 2, the labor board wage award of July 20, 1920.

The trunk lines in the wage decision were those represented by the Association of Railway Executives.

Various scales of wages have been in effect on the sixty-seven roads. Some carriers paid the standard scale established by the United States Railroad Administration. Others paid approximately the same races as those paid on the trunk lines in the same territory.

The introducers of the Fearon-Hutchinson bill, repealing the part time or continuation school law, withdrew it tonight and submitted another measure, amending the present law. The new bill provides that continuation schools must be held only in school districts where be held only in school districts where there are 200 or more minors eligible for part time courses. In other districts the part time schools are permissive with the local authorities. The age limits are made from 14 to 16, instead of 18 as at

JUSTICE LIFTS BAN ON TELEPHONE RATE

Permanent Injunction on Rate Annual Property of the Permanent Injunction on Rate to Be Argued To-morrow.

The temporary restraining order issued Friday by Supreme Court Justice Joseph E. Newburger in behalf of the Corporation Counsel against the New York Telephone Company was vacated by him yesterday, thereby permitting the telephone company to put into effect on April 1 its new rates, that are 28 to 20 per cent, higher than the present rates.

The original motion for a permanent

The original motion for a permanent injunction against the new rates will be argued to-morrow before Justice Gavegan in the equity term of the Supreme Court. This was sought after the up-State Public Service Commission granted the company's application for the higher tolls on March 17. Hearings are to be continued before that body also.

"Bills for service from April 1 will be rendered at the new rates," a statement but so refere from Apri. I will be rendered at the new rates," a statement by J. S. McCulloh, vice-president of the telephone company, said. "As previously stated, subscribers are protected under the surety bond given by the company guaranteeing to refund any amounts paid under the temporary rates which may be in excess of the rates. which may be in excess of the rates finally determined as reasonable. At the seme time the company is protected against the irreparable loss had not immediate relief been granted, and can go ahead with the work of providing new telephone facilities the city needs."
